

2006 Survey on Professional Designations and Development for Logisticians

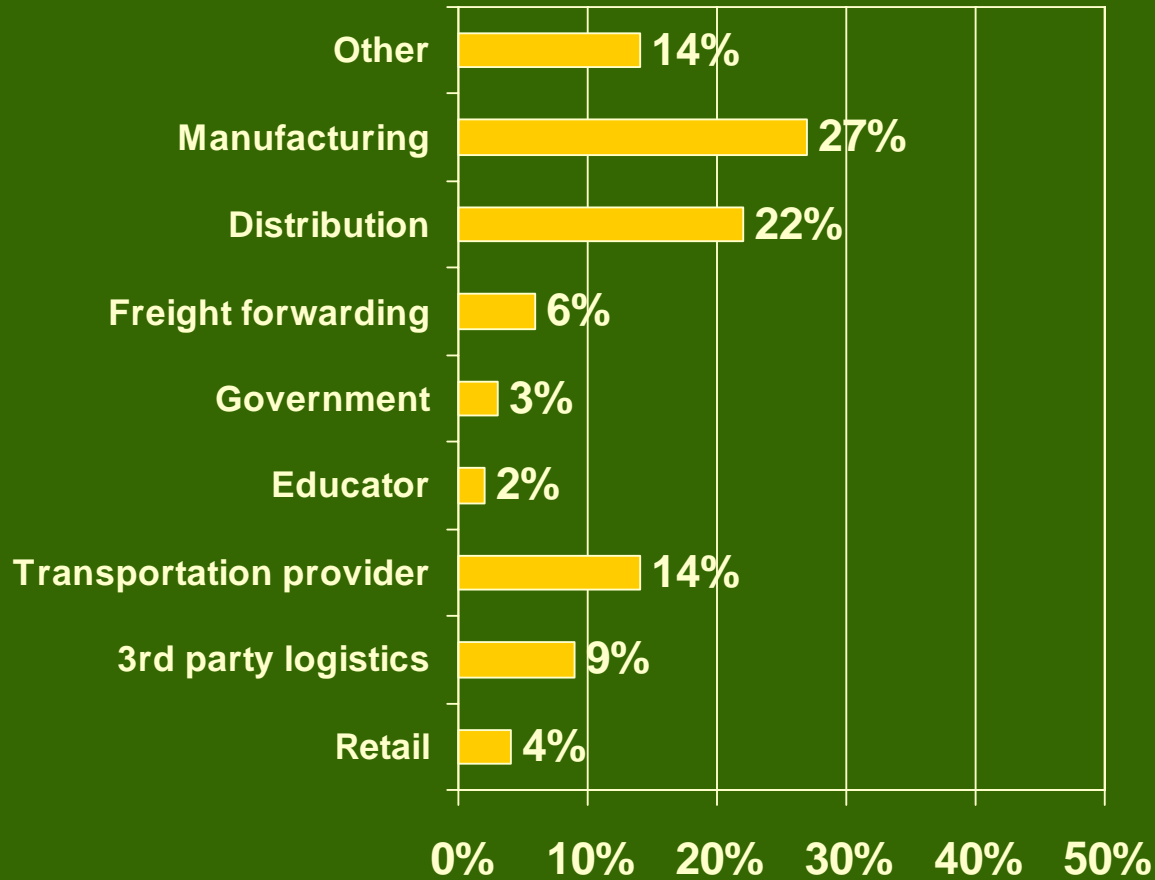

Conducted January 22, 2006

Results Summary

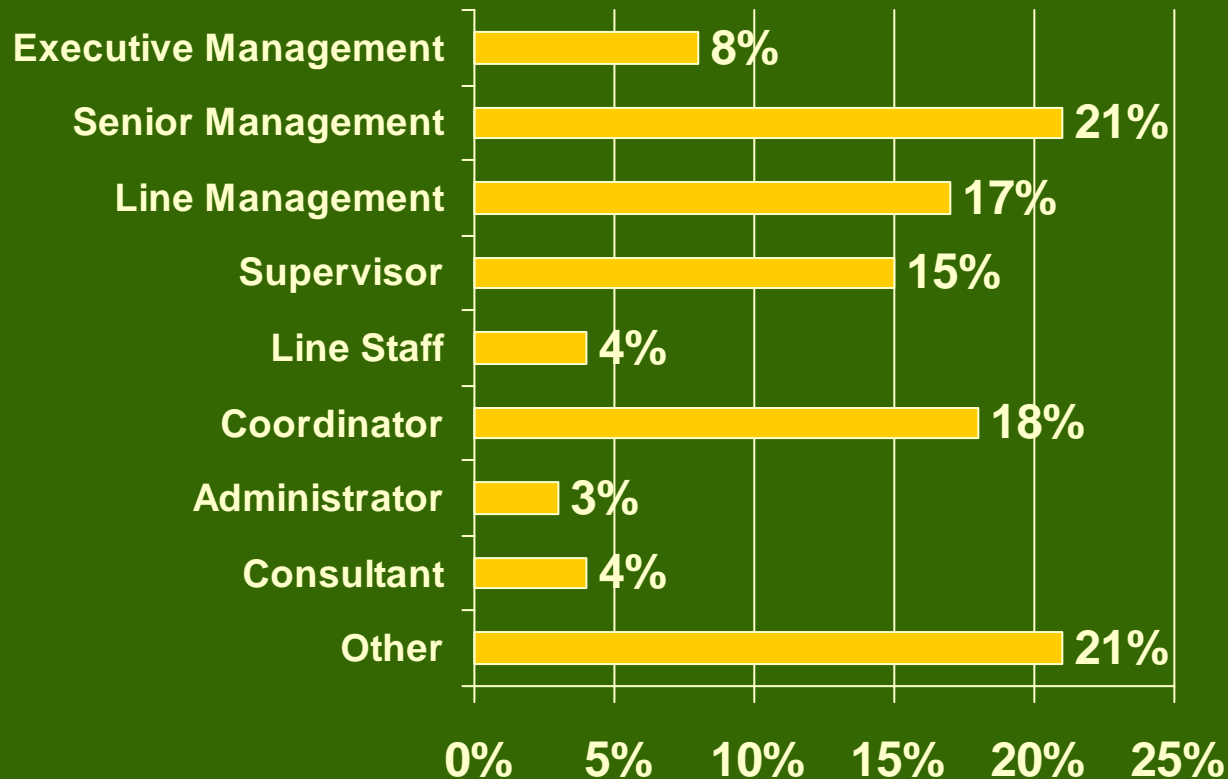

1. In which sector of the logistics field are you currently working?

Sample Size: 986

2. What best describes your position within your current company?

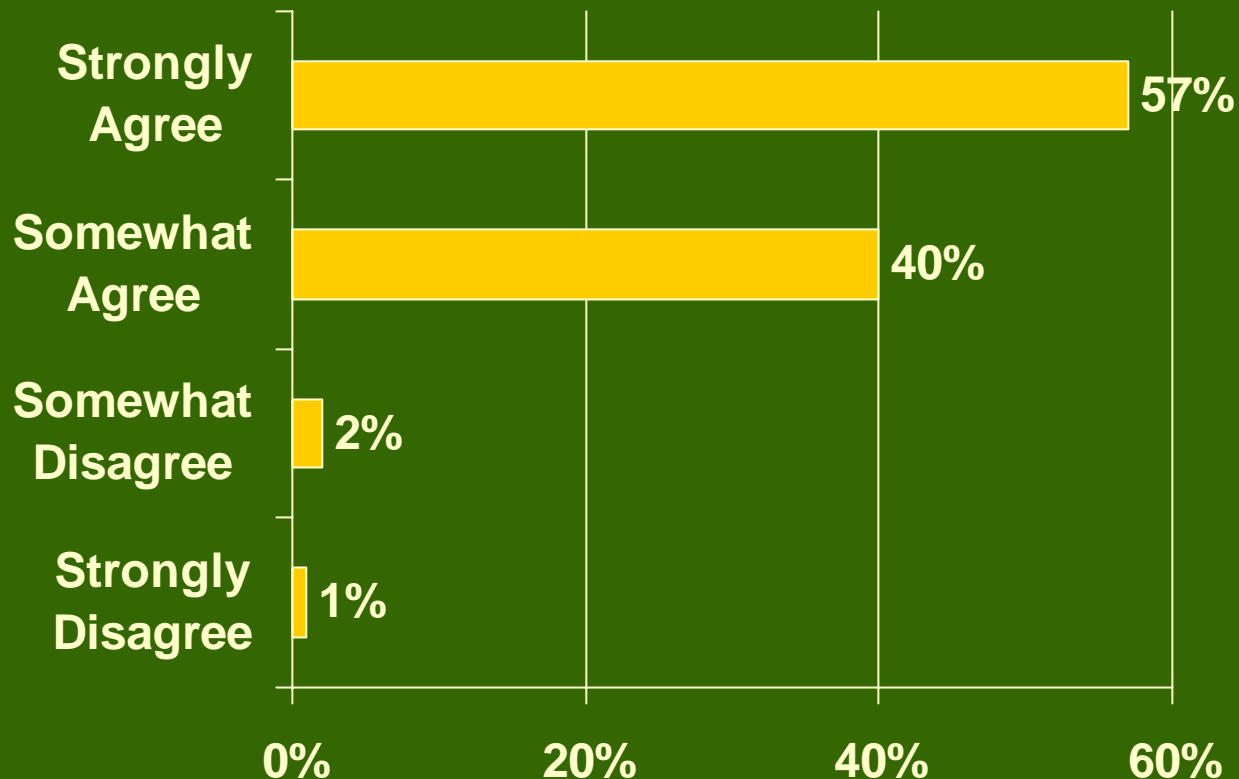

Sample Size: 972

3. Indicate the degree to which you “agree” or “disagree” with the following statement:

The business of supply chain and transportation logistics is becoming more complex every day.

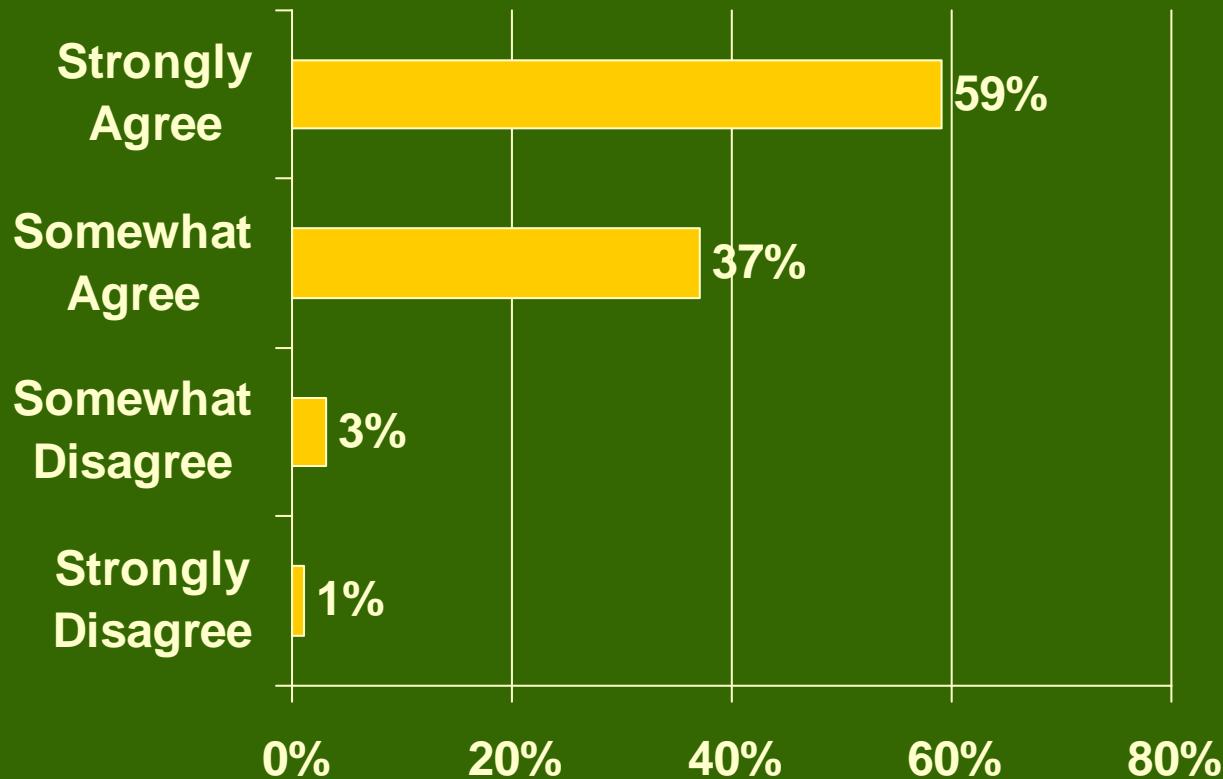

Sample Size: 956

4. Indicate the degree to which you “agree” or “disagree” with the following statement:

Logistics and supply chain management are operational areas that companies are pressuring for profitability.

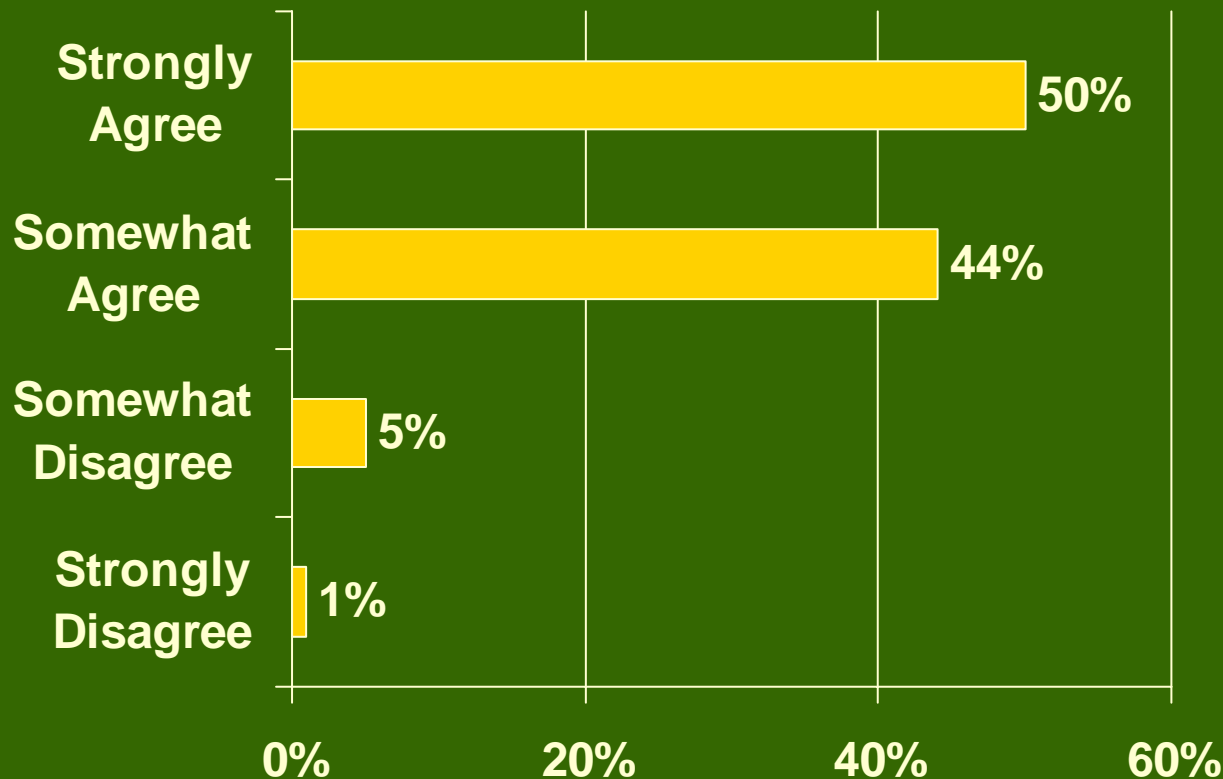

Sample Size: 939

5. Indicate the degree to which you “agree” or “disagree” with the following statement:

Professional designations in the logistics field are important for career development.

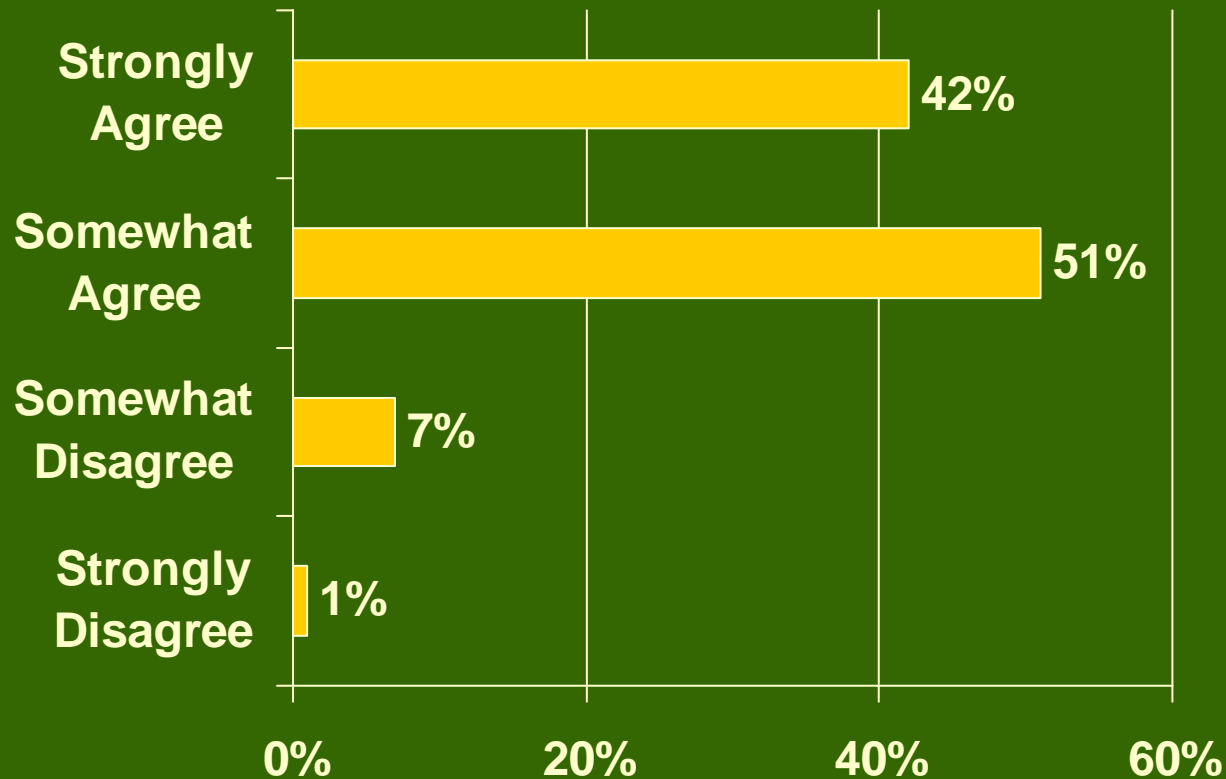

Sample Size: 939

6. Indicate the degree to which you “agree” or “disagree” with the following statement:

A professional designation sets a job candidate apart from other applicants.

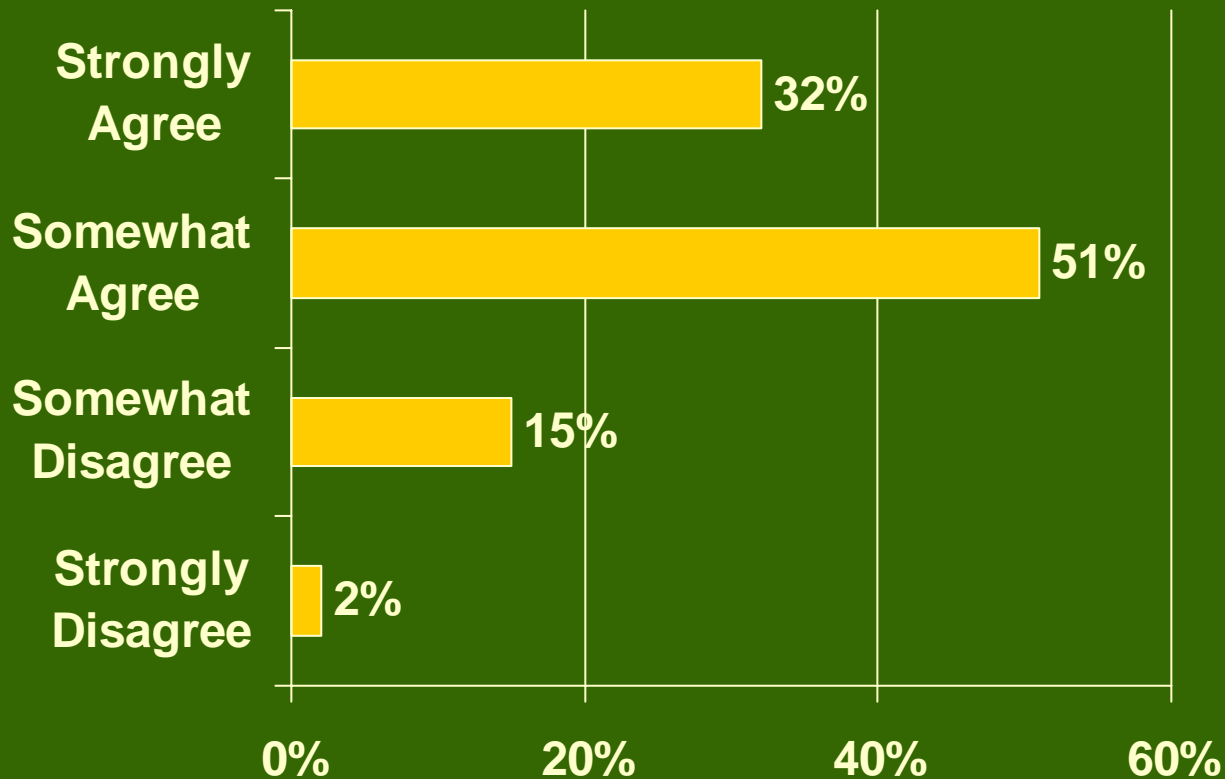

Sample Size: 940

7. Indicate the degree to which you “agree” or “disagree” with the following statement:

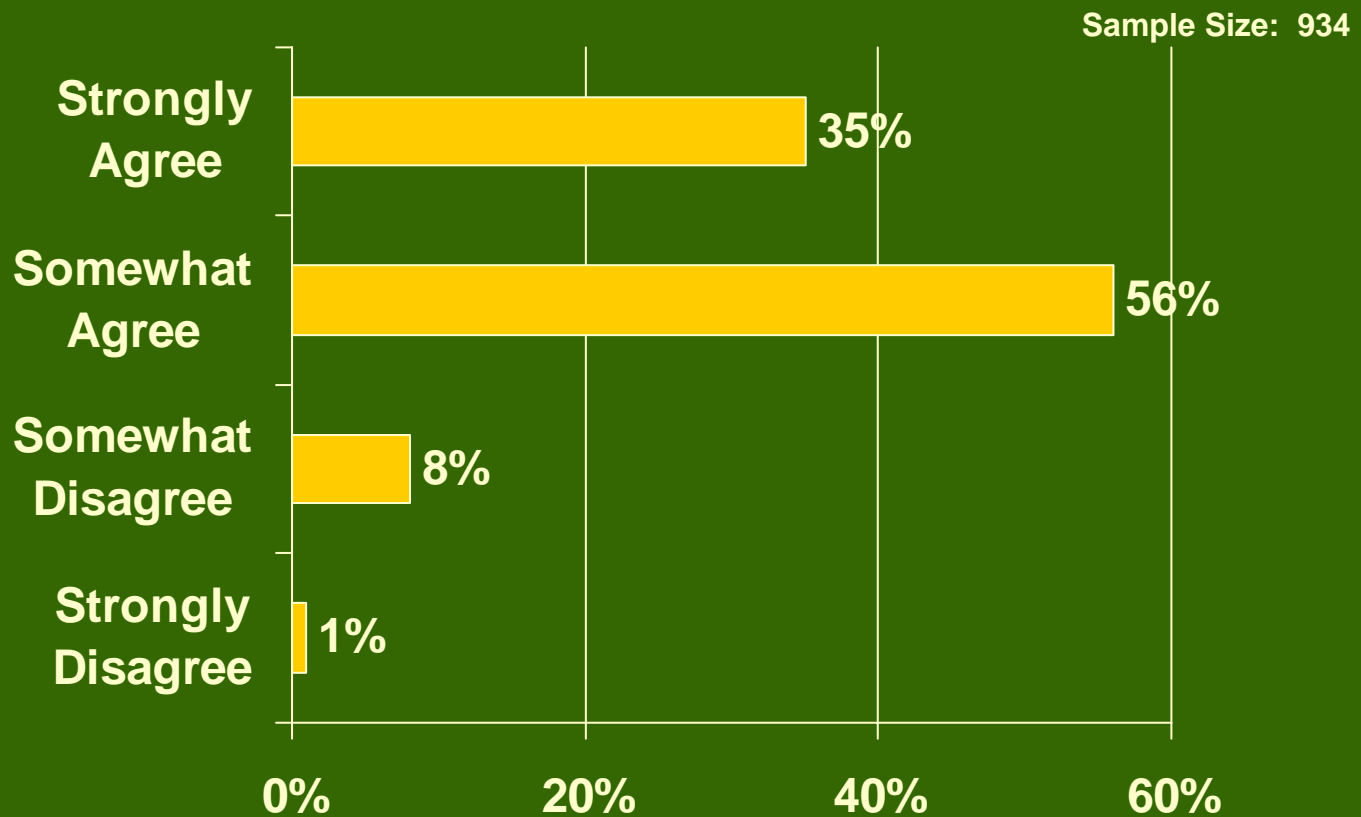

There is a need for people working in the logistics industry to have professional credentials in addition to a University degree or College diploma.

Sample Size: 937

8. Indicate the degree to which you “agree” or “disagree” with the following statement:

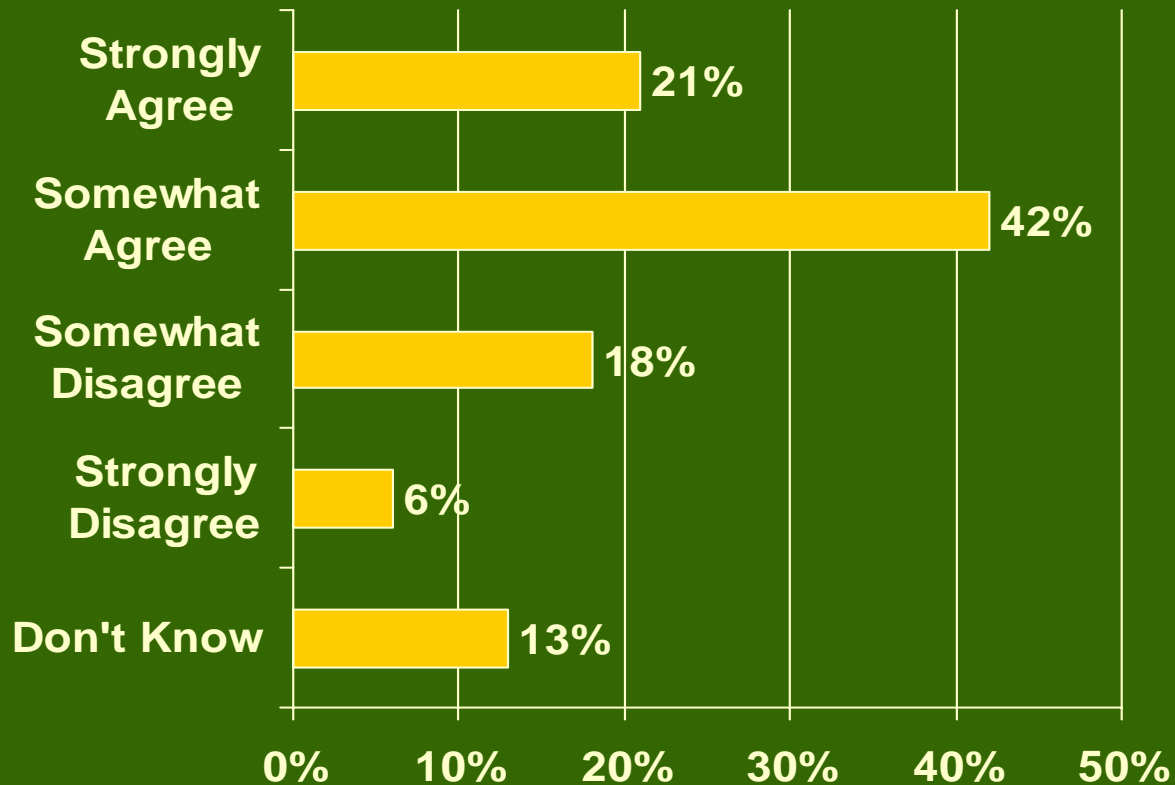

It is very valuable to have established measures (i.e. professional designations) against which diversely qualified logistics professionals can be compared.

9. Indicate the degree to which you “agree” or “disagree” with the following statement:

Professional credentials (i.e. a professional designation) are usually included in my company’s internal and external job postings as a way to screen for good candidates.

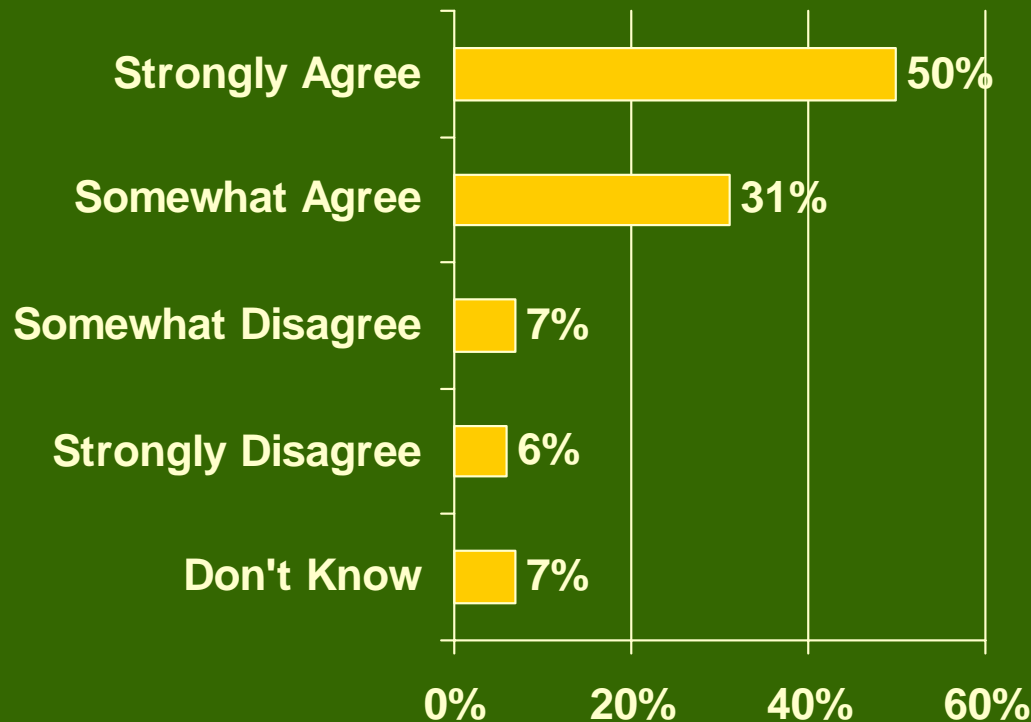

Sample Size: 937

10. Indicate the degree to which you “agree” or “disagree” with the following statement:

My company will pay the costs of professional designations and professional development courses.

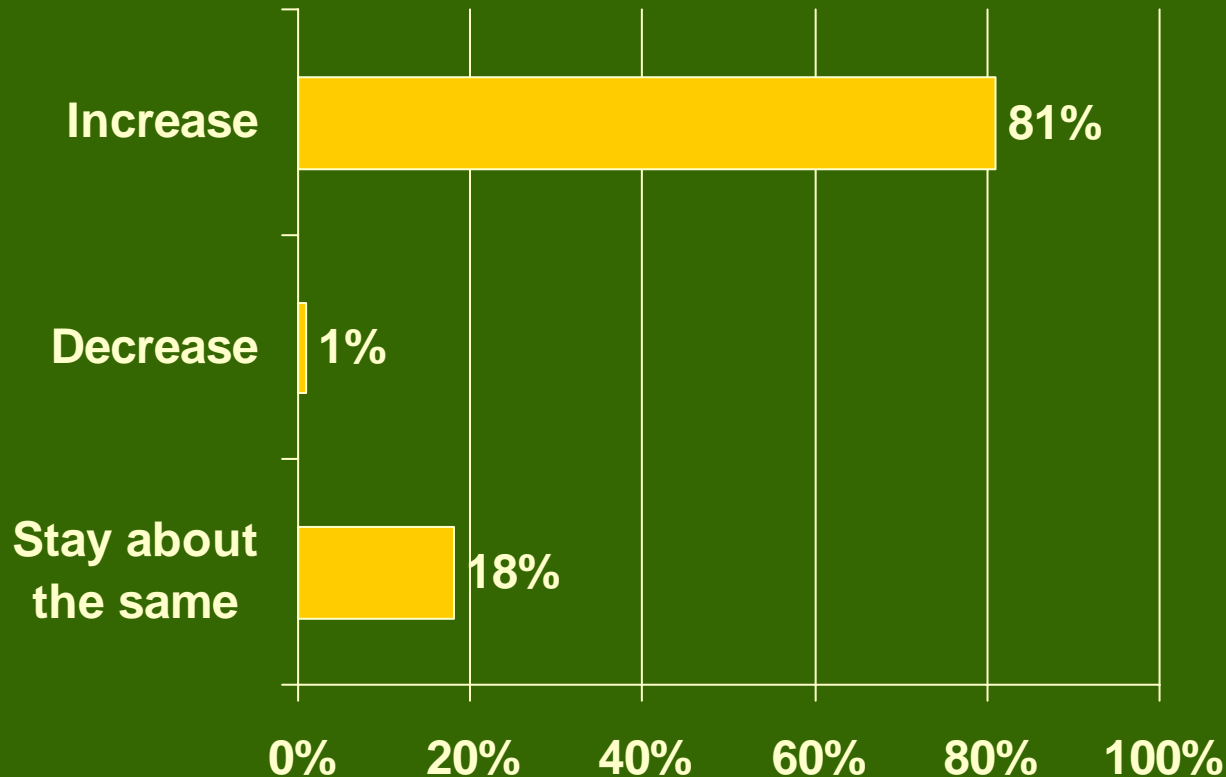

Sample Size: 937

11. A significant number of logistics professionals either hold—or are working toward—professional designations.

In the future do you believe the demand for professional designations will...

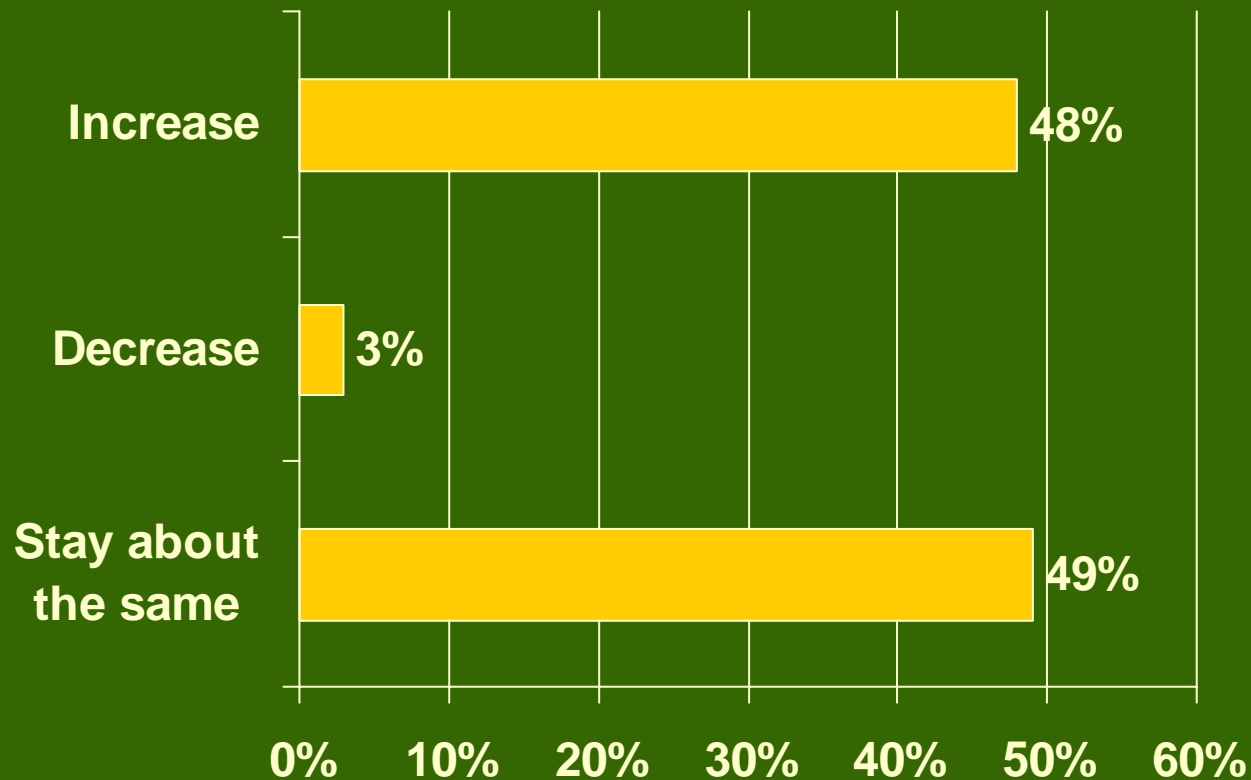

Sample Size: 929

12. In the next few years, please indicate the support you expect to see for professional development and designations from YOUR company.

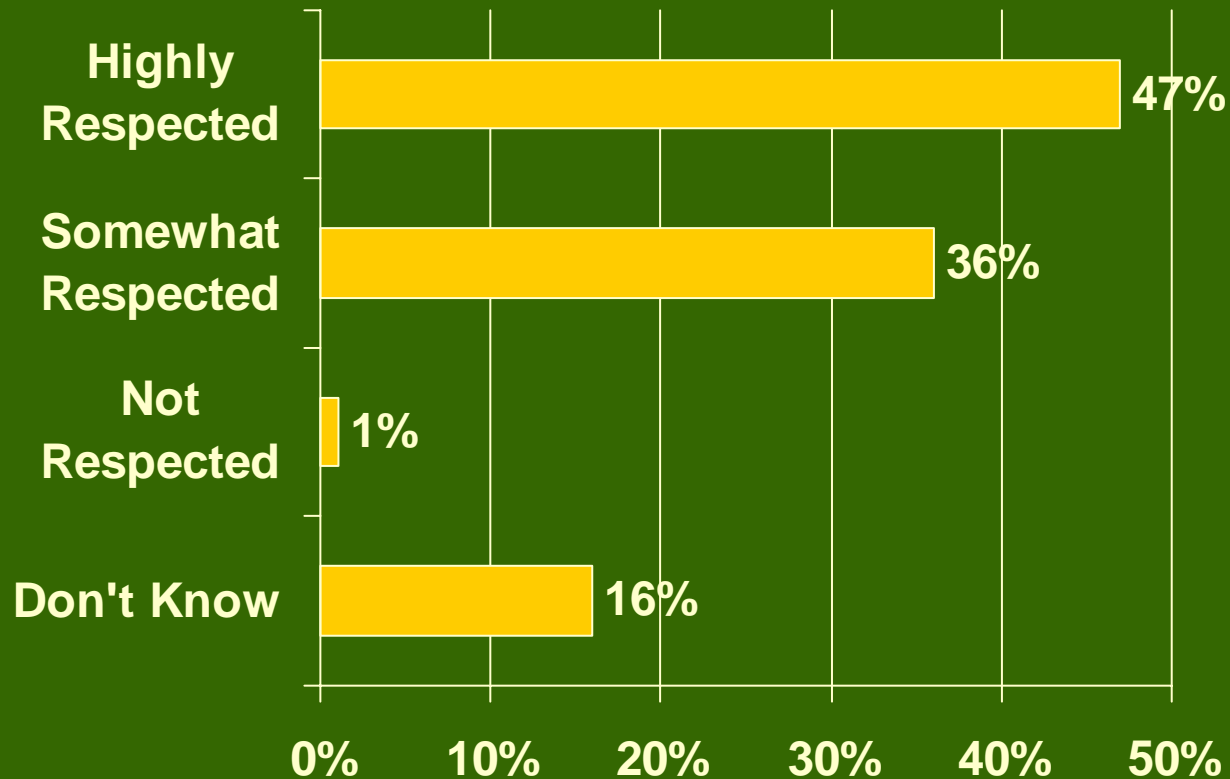

Do you expect it to...

Sample Size: 925

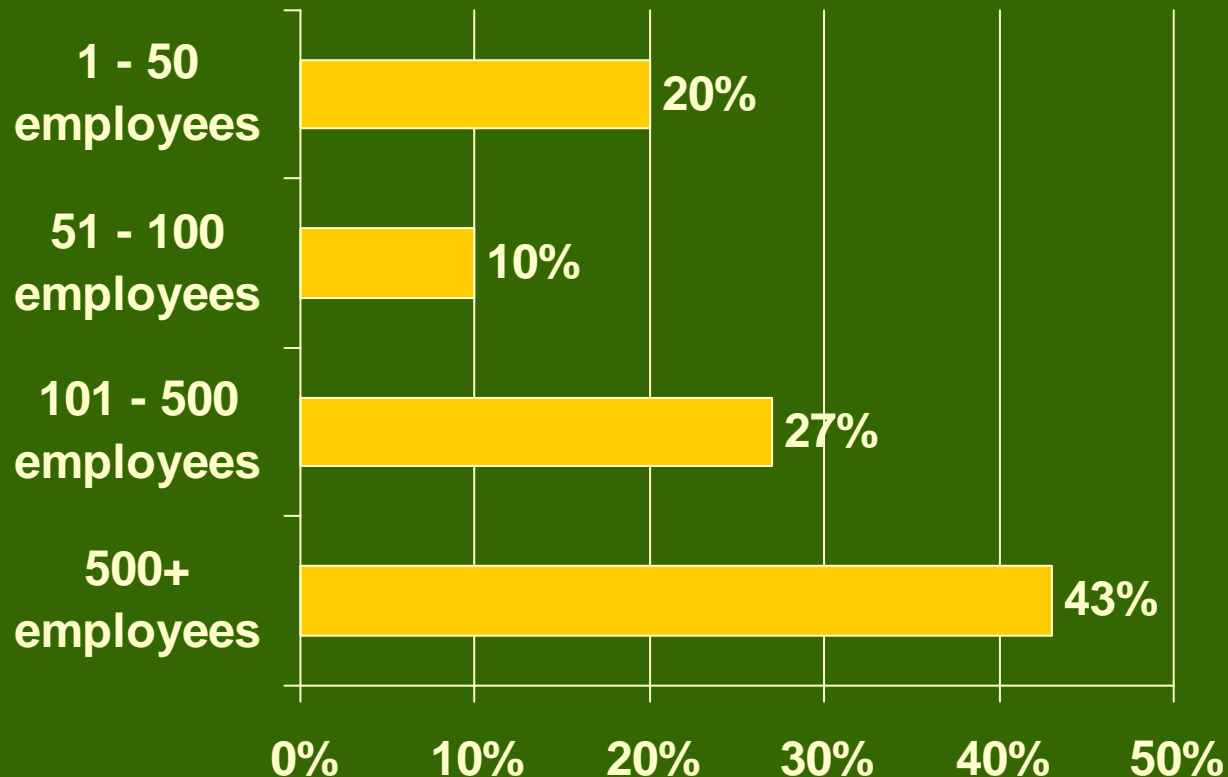

13. What kind of reputation does the CITT Designation enjoy in the field of logistics?

Sample Size: 912

14. How would you describe the size of the company in which you work? Please select the most appropriate from the following list.

Sample Size: 894

15. What is your gender?

Sample Size: 894

