CITT Opens Registration for all Courses Running through Winter 2016 after Record-breaking 2015

Toronto, Ontario – November 13, 2015

CITT announces that registration is now open for CITT's winter semester of logistics courses that start on January 14th 2016.

All of CITT's courses can be taken individually, and each course counts towards the requirements for the CCLP® (CITT-Certified Logistics Professional) designation. The CCLP designation comes highly recommended by industry managers and HR professionals and is a career-building foundation for everyone who buys, sells, or manages the flow of goods and product or is impacted by supply chain logistics.

"January is a really smart time to get started," says Catherine Viglas, CITT President and CEO.

"People who start their CCLP-bound logistics course work in January could be 60% (or more) of the way to completing the course work requirement for the designation by the end of the year, depending how many courses they take, their previous education, and their work experience," she said.

CITT recently made every course it offers available in all of its semesters, responding to strong industry demand and the fact that once they start working towards their CCLP designation they often want to complete the process as quickly as possible. CITT also offers an online CCLP® Route Finder tool to help people map their fastest route to the CCLP designation. This can be accessed at http://www.citt.ca/your-fastest-path-to-cclp/index.html

"2015 has been an incredible year for CITT and for talent development in the maturing SCL industry. More people started the process to become a CCLP® in our last two semesters than ever before" said Viglas. "We expect this trend to continue through 2016 and beyond as more people and their companies respect this designation and the deep abilities and professionalism on which it's built."

The CCLP designation is the most respected credential for people who work across the many SCL roles in specialized industries and in the vast supplier/service sector. The CCLP designation is held 3:1 over other logistics designations in Canada.

People can learn more about CITT's courses at www.citt.ca/courses, register directly online via CITT's website at http://www.citt.ca/ or call CITT at 416.363.5696. After the high demand this year, people are encouraged to register for courses early to guarantee their spot.

The last day to register for CITT's Winter Semester is January 12th. Logistics courses start on January 14, 2016.
